

1435

(1385-1458) ALFONSO V

King of Aragon, Naples and Sicily.
Brought southern Italy under the control of Aragon. Was defeated and captured by the Genoese fleet and sent to the Duke of Milan (1435). Alfonso so charmed him by his manners and his talent that he sent him at liberty
and made an alliance with him.
After many battles Alfonso took naples where he died while his troops were besieging GENOA.

1435

Philip of Burgundy reconciled with Charles VII; English lose ground continuously.